

Recognizes Joel Isaacson

Business & Philanthropic Leadership Award

ARHC, a family governed organization committed to finding ways for people with intellectual and other developmental disabilities to build full lives as defined by each person and supported by dedicated families, staff and community partners is one of the largest consumer-based nonprofit organizations in the city. AHRC currently serves over 15,000 individuals throughout the five boroughs. The array of services offered by the organization is unsurpassed.

The organization that created the first schools, workshops, day treatment programs and community residences, continues to meet the needs of its individuals with intellectual and developmental disabilities through a wide range of programs, services and support tailored to meet their specific needs.

The aim of AHRC's work has been to offer individuals with disabilities day to day living that is as rich, absorbing and worthwhile as possible, with an emphasis on helping individuals live up to their maximum potential in the community.

The values of ARHC are expressed as the commitment of the organization to promoting a culture that embraces; Passion, Respect, Integrity, Diversity and Excellence.

We are thrilled for Joel to be recognized for his outstanding work, as well as for nurturing an environment for those values at the firm, Joel Isaacson & Co.
